

Dr Deborah Gabriel

Media Pack

Dr Deborah Gabriel

Selected Areas of Expertise

Dr Gabriel is a leader in education and social justice as the Founder and Director of Black British Academics; a global network of scholars working to tackle racial inequality in higher education. Her intellectual work is interdisciplinary and focused on the dynamics of race, gender and culture and the relationship between race, power, privilege and inequality. She specializes in strategic approaches to equity, diversity and inclusion centred on social transformation in education and the wider society.

Teaching

Research

Consultancy

Equity & Diversity Leadership

Research Leader

TRANSFORMING THE IVORY TOWER

Models for gender equality and social justice

Edited by Deborah Gabriel

INSIDE THE IVORY TOWER

Narratives of women of colour surviving and thriving in British academia

Edited by Deborah Gabriel
and Shirley Anne Tate

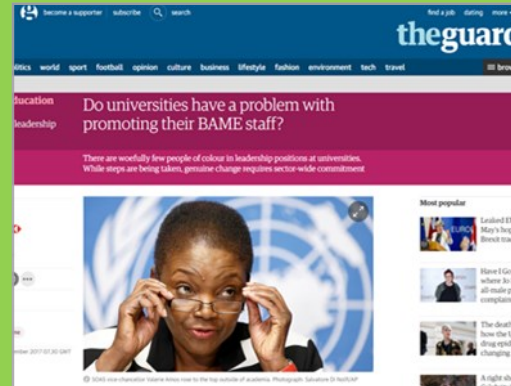

Dr Gabriel leads pioneering, collaborative research through the Black British Academics network. She specializes in interdisciplinary research that explores the dynamics of race, gender and culture and the relationships between race, power, privilege and inequality, approached from a critical race and Black feminist standpoint. Dr Gabriel developed the Ivory Tower Project, leading two international research teams on two major publications: Inside the Ivory Tower (2017) and Transforming the Ivory Tower (2020).

Public Speaker

In addition to presenting her research at international conferences around the world, Dr Gabriel is a frequent guest, keynote speaker and panellist at academic, community and media events. She is frequently called upon as a media commentator to offer expert analysis, especially around issues relating to race and inequality. She has appeared across television, radio, online and print in the UK and US.

Media Commentator

Press: Guardian

Press: Times Higher

Radio: BBC

TV: BBC News

Monthly Reach

80K page views

25K+ unique users

5 websites

global audience

Followers

20K+

